

For over 30 years, Vaniman has established a tradition of Quality, Service, and Innovation for all the products it manufactures for the Dental Industry.

Starting with the original Accumulator™. Pre Filter , Vaniman's complete line of General and Specialty dust collectors, Micro Abrasive Blasters, Air Purification, and Electronic Waxing products, provide our customers the quality the industry has come to expect.

In addition, Vaniman has been involved in the CAD / CAM revolution right from the start and offers high-quality, fully integrated dust collecting systems used by all major milling machine manufacturers.

Our Service department provides direct customer/technician interaction which streamlines technical assistance, as well as suggestions for properly configuring a product to achieve its optimal performance.

Innovation has been the cornerstone of Vaniman Manufacturing over the last 30 years. The Engineering Staff is continuously striving to provide the customer with the most robust, economical, and effective products available.

Vaniman remains committed to providing the Dental Industry the highest quality of products and service available through our worldwide dealer network.
